

The question drives the learning

Not the other way around

My personal experience

- ✦ You've got data
- ✦ I need data and a question
- ✦ 80% of my time will be to help you figure out the question
- ✦ 80% of the remaining time will be spent getting your data into a usable state for your question